

UEN-TV Highlights - September

TV for Thinkers

Labor & Money

Waging Change

Saturday, September 4 at 9 p.m.

Learn about the growing movement to end the tipped minimum wage and the challenges faced by restaurant workers whose income depends on gratuities.

Corporate Welfare: Where's the Outrage?

Thursday, September 16 at 9 p.m.

Explore whether government policies support big business at the expense of small businesses, individuals and local communities.

News Matters

Thursday, September 30 at 9 p.m.

Follow the story of Colorado journalists working to save the 125-year-old Denver Post from slow death after its acquisition by a hedge fund manager.

Roadtrip Nation: A Single Mom's Story

Thursday, September 9 at 8 p.m.

Hear inspiring stories of single mothers who have paved their own career paths while caring for their families.

Arts & Culture

Called to Walls

Sunday, September 5 at 8 p.m.

See how an artist's mural project called up a town's untold stories and sparked community-building dialogue.

Afro-Latino Travels with Kim Haas

Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m. beginning September 15

Experience the heart and soul of Afro-Latino culture through a series of explorations across the Caribbean, Central America and South America.

A Place to Stand

Saturday, September 25 at 9 p.m.

Uncover the power of the written word through the amazing true story of how Jimmy Santiago Baca—a man with seemingly no future—became a celebrated author.

Masters of Rhythm: The Afro-Peruvian Way

September 26 at 8:30 p.m.

Jam with three of the world's finest percussionists—Lalo Izquierdo, Cotito and Huevito—to glimpse the often unseen side of the African diaspora.

Commemorating 9/11

Leaning Out

Wednesday, September 8 at 8 p.m.

Get to know Leslie E. Robertson, the legendary structural engineer who oversaw construction of the World Trade Center.

In Our Son's Name

Saturday, September 11 at 8 p.m.

How can parents move forward after the loss of a rebellious son? Parents of a man killed in the 9/11 attacks find healing in an unexpected place.

Objects and Memory

Saturday, September 11 at 9 p.m.

What things mean the most to us? This film explores the stories sparked by items recovered or offered in response to 9/11, the Oklahoma City bombing and the Vietnam War.